

Tirocinio e Tesi di Laurea per Laurea Triennale e Magistrale

Theses will be written in English and discussed in Italian or in English. After discussion and approval by the Commission, they will be freely available by traditional and electronic means. The originals will be conserved in the Library of the Department of Experimental Pathology and Oncology of the University of Firenze, viale Morgagni 50, 501234 Firenze, Italy.

The study will focus on the hypothetical non-viral origin of AIDS and on the side effects of anti-retroviral drugs. The study will be performed by analysing available epidemiological data, with particular reference to Italian and Tuscanian data. Meta-analysis of published studies will also be performed. The study will not involve bench work.